Fresh from our 40th birthday celebrations, Templar Publishing emerges into a new phase of life in 2019 with a host of fresh talent, old friends and a glittering array of novelty books that recreate the glory of our founding Ology era.

Newcomers Frann Preston-Gannon and Maddie Frost are welcomed to our picture book list with In the Swamp by the Light of the Moon and Wakey Birds, while Templar royalty Emma Dodd and Grahame Baker-Smith return to the list once more with What Matters Most and a glorious re-imagining of Wind in the Willows.

We prepare to wow our readers with paper innovation in our new Paper World series, The Incredible Pop-Up Maze book and the luminescent Sea Lights, and finish the year with the super-spooky Ghostology – only Templar could present a book that is haunted by its own author...

Big Picture Press gets under the skin with a human body book to outshine the rest with Welcome to the Museum's Anatomicum and two new non-fiction picture books from last year's newcomer Lara Hawthorne (The Night Flower).

We will be celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Moon Landing all year round, with Duncan Beedie's The Moth Who Went to the Moon, a cosmic Welcome to the Museum trio of Planetarium Activity Book, Postcard Set and Junior Edition, plus Balloon to the Moon's history of the human journey into space.

Time to take off, Templar!

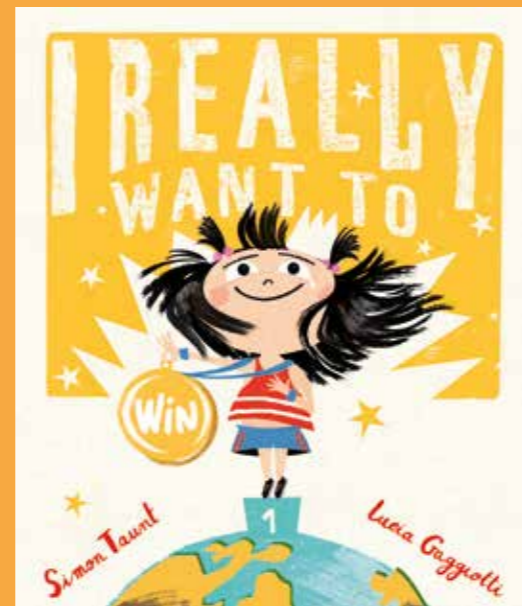

Lisa Edwards, Head of Children's Publishing

A simple, lyrical picture book from Frann Preston-Gannon, the bestselling author and illustrator of The Journey Home and Dave's Cave.

A celebration of differences featuring two adorable ponies with words and pictures by Emma Dodd.

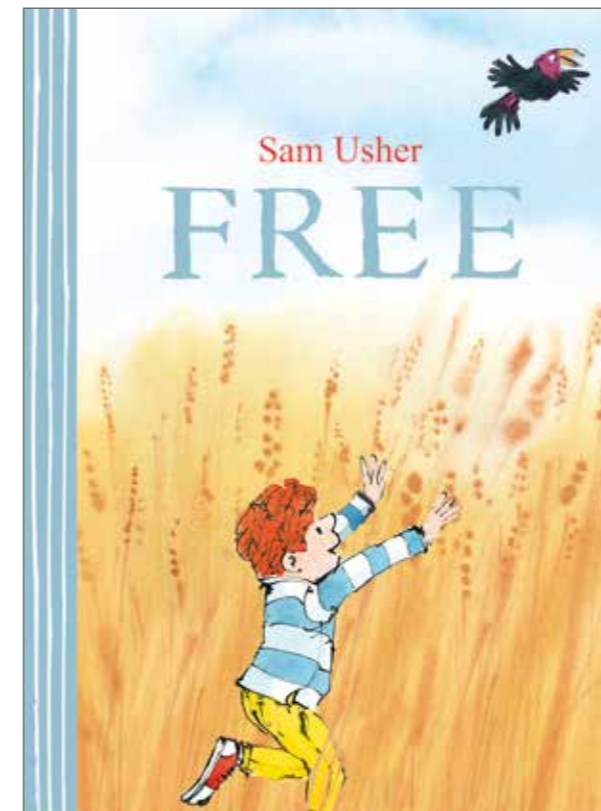

A sporting sequel to the Waterstones Children's Book Prize-shortlisted I Really Want the Cake.

A hilarious story of mothly endeavour that celebrates the spirit of adventure. By The Bear Who Stared creator, Duncan Beedie.

The first in a new quartet of enchanting picture books from Sam Usher featuring a boy and his beloved grandad.

Sam Usher

Boy and Grandad take care of a little bird. When it gets better, Grandad puts it outside, but it keeps hopping back into the house, following Boy wherever he goes. Boy wonders what kind of bird it is. An eagle? An ostrich? A bird of paradise, perhaps? He wants to keep it, but Grandad says it must return to its natural habitat, back to the wild where it can spread its wings and be free. And so begins an exhilarating journey into the rainforest!

Follow Boy and Grandad as they discover the wonder of the natural world.

A lyrical picture book from Frann Preston-Gannon, bestselling author and illustrator of The Journey Home and Dave's Cave.

In the Swamp by the Light of the Moon

Frann Preston-Gannon

A little frog is singing to himself in the swamp one night. His song doesn't seem complete, so he invites some other animals to join in. But nothing sounds right... that is until the littlest voice of all joins the song — that of a tiny firefly. A heart-warming picture book with the important message that small voices need to be heard too.

A second fantastical picture book from the author and illustrator duo behind The Elephant in the Room.

The Boy who Knew Nothing

James Thorp • Angus MacKinnon

There is a boy who knows nothing at all — everyone tells him so. One day he discovers a strange creature in his parents' wardrobe and of course he doesn't know what it is. The funny thing is that his mum and dad can't tell him either. Determined to identify his new friend, the boy who knows nothing goes on a quest to find out!

A hilarious story for all the little Wakey Birds who can't or won't sleep.

Wakey Birds

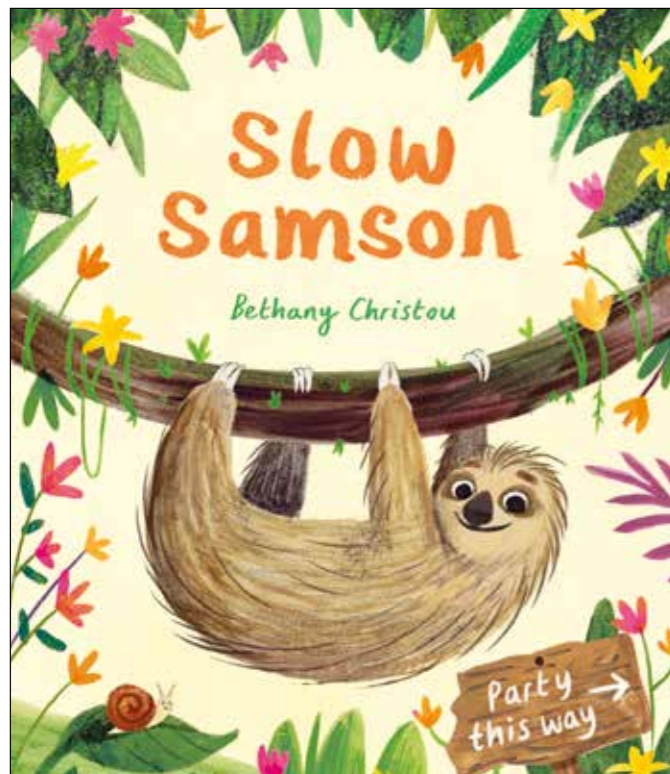

Maddie Frost

The jungle is a fascinating place full of exotic creatures. The most interesting of these is the Wakey Bird. Wakey Birds get their name because they have trouble sleeping, and tonight the littlest Wakey Bird is finding it harder than ever. What will happen if she wakes up the Jungle Beast? Author and illustrator Maddie Frost has created a funny, warm story which is perfect for bedtime.

What Matters Most

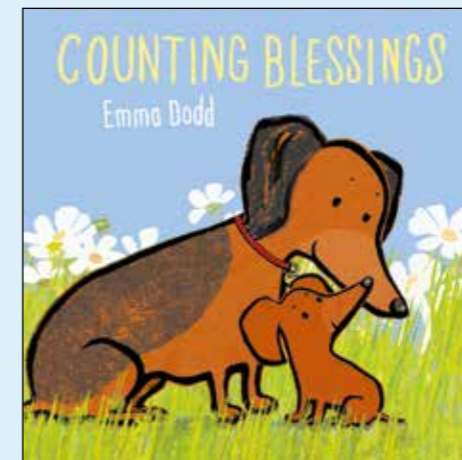

What matters most?

Is it being very big or being super-small?
Is it having lots of stuff, or not that much at all?
Is it having lots of friends or only two or three?
Is it talking all the time or listening carefully?

Emma Dodd explores the important themes of identity and acceptance in this charming book that will strike a chord with all parents. Embellished with foil inside.

I Really want to Win

Simon Philip • Lucia Gaggioti

Today is Sports Day. I CAN'T WAIT! And as I know that I'll be great, I've planned how I will celebrate – because I'm going to win.

Our heroine is determined that she's going to win all the events at her school's sports day. The problem is that winning isn't as easy as it looks. She doesn't win the running race or the tug of war – and she can't even win a dancing contest. But perhaps winning isn't really the point. A hilarious new picture book with an important message from the author and illustrator of I Really Want the Cake.

Raj and the Best Holiday Ever

Sebastien Braun

Raj and his dad are going camping. They've packed everything they need and Raj knows they are going to have an amazing time. Once they get there, however, they find they have to contend with wind, rain and a family of very noisy bears. In this sequel to Raj and the Best Day Ever, Sebastien Braun continues his warm, observant exploration of the relationship between a little tiger and his dad.

Toto

Ximo Abadía

This quirky, original story by the highly-acclaimed artist Ximo Abadía has an important message – never give up on your dreams. Living in a small town, Toto wishes to escape the inevitable life in front of him. He will never become a porter, he will become an astronaut instead! He bravely packs his bags and sets off for the bright lights of the big city. Even when all his money for astronaut school is stolen by thieves, his hard work and determination sees him through and his dreams finally become a reality!

What is there to do when you can't sleep? Why, count sheep of course!

I Can't Sleep

Gracia Iglesias • Ximo Abadía

illustrations from Ximo Abadía.

It's a universal problem – no matter how hard they try, some children just can't get to sleep! Perhaps counting sheep will help? But these sheep aren't content with merely skipping over fences, they'd rather come to life and explore the house! Falling through the chimney, nibbling at the rug, dancing on the stairs, bouncing on the bed – will they ever be able to soothe a little girl to sleep? Perhaps a kiss from the littlest of Jams will help.

An exquisitely illustrated retelling of the Hans Christian Andersen story, The Fir Tree.

The Robin and the Fir Tree

Hans Christian Andersen • Jason Jameson

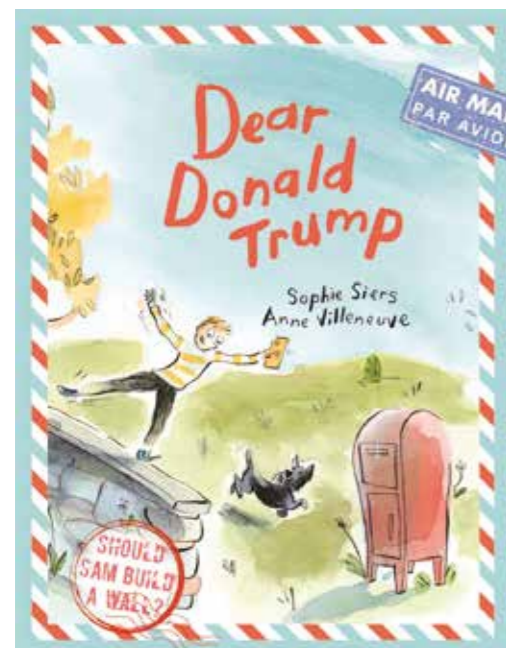

The Fir Tree grows in a forest far away from the bustle of towns. It is a beautiful place, but he dreams of the excitement of the outside world. His friend the Robin tells him stories of the places she has seen and the forest animals dress him up with berries and leaves, but he is still not happy. One day he is cut down and taken away to be a beautiful Christmas tree. He thinks this is everything he ever wanted, but can reality ever live up to his dreams?

Jameson's Pre-Raphaelite inspired illustrations make this Christmas story of friendship and new life a thing of great beauty.

Lara Hawthorne returns with a second picture book – a stunning depiction of the effects of pollution as seen through the eyes of an ancient fish.

The One-Hundred-Year-Old Fish

Alba the fish has spent her entire life collecting precious objects that drift down to the ocean floor. From delicate shells to brightly coloured coral, each year on her birthday she treats herself to one more precious item.

But over the years Alba notices that some of them are losing their sparkle and the world around her is changing. As the ocean colour gradually fades to grey, Alba decides to leave her home and her precious collection behind. Can an old fish teach the world how to bring colour back to the ocean? Based on a real-life story of ancient fish caught off the coast of Norway.

Lara Hawthorne

Alba the fish has spent her life collecting precious artefacts that drift down to the ocean floor. From delicate shells to colourful coral, each year on her birthday she treats herself to one more precious item.

But over the years Alba notices that some of them are losing their sparkle and the world around her is changing. As the ocean colour gradually fades to grey, Alba decides to leave her home - and her precious collection behind. On her journey, can an old fish teach the world how to bring colour back to the ocean?

A fascinating countdown of the technologies, innovations and stories that led humans from the hot-air balloon to walking on the Moon.

Balloon to the Moon

Gill Arbuthnott • Chris Nielsen

Long before anyone had designed a rocket, the Montgolfier brothers were making hot-air balloons. In October 1783, they became the first people to experience controlled flight. The story leads from there to Neil Armstrong's 'small step' and beyond. But why stop there? Learn about the innovations of the past, then get ready to BLAST OFF into an unknown but exciting future.

GHOSTOLOGY:
A True Relation of Spirits, Ghouls and Hauntings

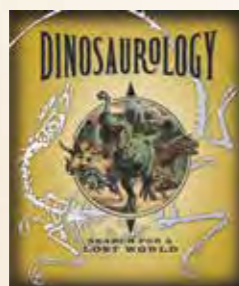

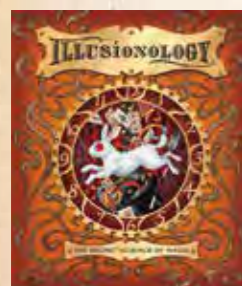

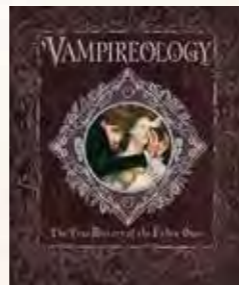

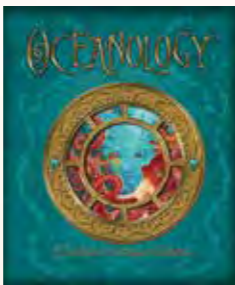

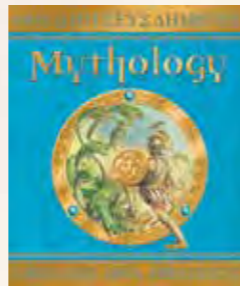

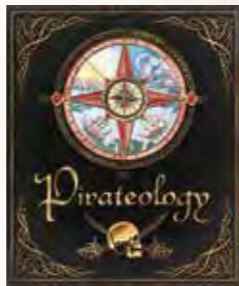

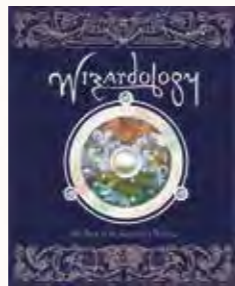

Dugald Steer • Anne Yvonne Gilbert, Doug Sirois and Garry Walton

In 1975, under a bed in an old house in Somerville, Massachusetts, an unearthly tome entitled Ghostology was discovered, wrapped in a substance, later found to be ectoplasm. Now published, ghostwritten by Dugald Steer, the world itself can decide if Ghostology – purporting to tell the truth about ghosts, by renowned ghost-hunter Lucinda Curtle – was solid fact or insubstantial fiction.

Sea Lights

Ruth Symons • Carolina Rabei

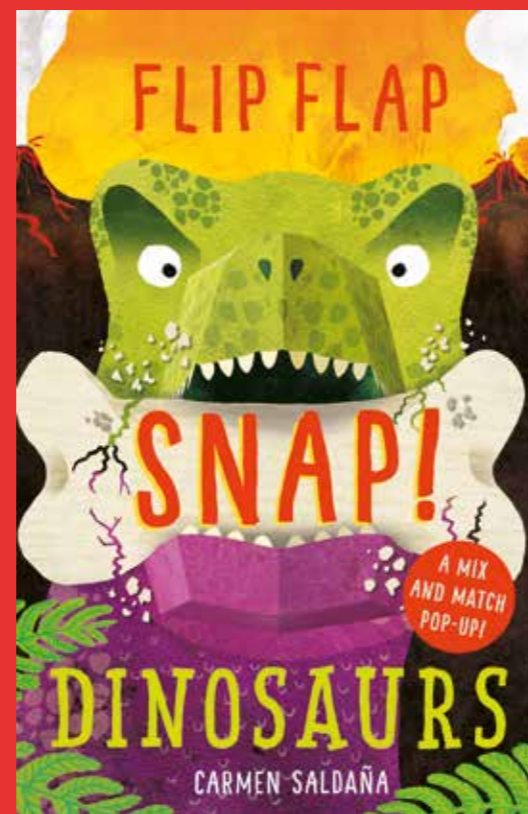

*At night we sail over the dark, glossy waves,
Me and my dad, in our little red boat.
We cast out our nets, and we wait in the dark,
And the star light shines above us.*

Follow the journey of one girl and her father as their fishing boat sails back home. Paper engineering makes objects appear to 'light up' on every spread – from the sweeping beam of a lighthouse, to the warm lights of the village. A lyrical text and atmospheric art by The Ride-by-Nights illustrator Carolina Rabei create a twinkly tale to read together at night.

Alice's Puzzle Adventures in Wonderland

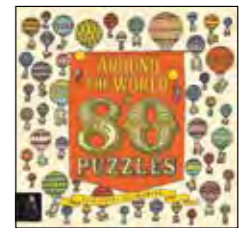

Aleksandra Artymowska

Inspired by Lewis Carroll's classic children's book, Aleksandra Artymowska's stunning puzzle book is packed with references to the original – from teetering tables of teapots, to lines of marching cards. Readers must riddle their way from one page to another, cracking clues, finding hidden objects and meandering through mazes. Beautifully illustrated and full of nostalgic charm, this is the perfect gift for readers young and old.

Animal Scramble

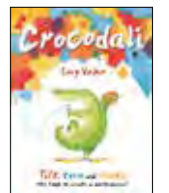

Lucy Volpin

From spotting the snowman in the crowd of penguins, to finding the flamingo that's in a fluster, young children will love poring over the detail of Animal Scramble's engaging animal scenes. Each page presents a busy crowd of creatures, from beetles to zebras, with lots of playful spotting opportunities. Questions prompt readers to find objects, count to 10 and consider their own opinions. And with extra questions at the very end, this is a spotting book to be enjoyed time and time again.
